Barrie Kirk, CAVI's President, said "I am pleased with the expertise that these Board members bring to CAVI. Its mission is exciting and challenging, and I welcome the Board's extensive combined experience.

I am especially pleased that we are achieving diversification both by expertise and geographically. We are striving to continue this with the additional Board members." Our plan is that there will be a 12-person Board that will be diversified by expertise, geography, and gender.

About CAVI

CAVI is a not-for-profit association that provides an integrated, national perspective for the Canadian CAV ecosystem in all its many aspects. It is a forum for the voices within the ecosystem, and a voice to audiences outside the ecosystem.
